

Meeting minutes January 2023

- Prof Aideen Ryan was welcomed as the new secretary of the ISI.
- Prof. Ed Lavelle was congratulated as recipient of the ISI annual immunology award.
- Dr. Eoin McNamee was congratulated on the success of the 2022 ISI annual meeting.
- Decided that there would be no annual ISI meeting in lieu of the British Society of Immunology (BSI) meeting to be held in Belfast.
- Professor Joanne Lysate will liaise with the secretary of BSI regarding the ISI having input to the BSI program.
- It was suggested to formalise the structure and purpose of the young ISI (yISI) committee and for the yISI to run an early career meeting in 2023.
- Dr. Gareth Brady stepped down as the leader of the outreach committee. It was decided that expression of interest forms will be sent out within the committee to fill the position, and then opened out if needed.
- Efforts to increase collaborations with international immunology societies were discussed. There are discussions with the Society for Immunotherapy of Cancer (SITC) regarding possibilities of joint sessions.
- Prof. Joanne Lysate will be the representative on the steering committee for the European Congress of Immunology (ECI).
- Discussions around expanding the membership of clinicians in the ISI.
